CITY NEWS.

The Impromptu club meets at Gen. Ben. Harrison's to-night. Ciark Laws, a young comedian of this city, is making preparations to play Jack Shepherd in all the leading cities.

Joseph Earnshaw has formally declined the nomination for alderman in the 4th district, owing, as he expresses it, to pressing business engagements.

H. I. Raymond, of this city, has been selected as one of the six contestants for the Baldwin prize at Wabash college, the contest to take place on the 3d of May.

Visitors on change to day, were: J. E. Thatcher, Illinois; P. B. Price, Dawns; E. P. Caywood, N. Canna, E. Loud. Philadelphis; J. E. Harris, Terre Haute; A. J. Boylan, Peoria. The Cold Water Legion temperance club

hes completed its organization by the election of G. A. Richards, president; Ezra Newcomb, secretary; H. Anderson, recording secretary; H. Marshall, treasurer; with a vice president from each church in the city. the city. The receipts of grain at this point for

The receipts of grain at this point for the week ending April 14th, were: wheat, 6.375 bushels; corn, 554,000 bushels; oats, 20 300 bushels; barley, 5.200 bushels; rye, 14.000 bushels. Shipments: wheat, 4,500 bushels; corn, 428,800 bushels; oats, 21, 700 bushels; barley, 3,200 bushels; rye, 6,400 bushels,

Last evening a party sold 17 pounds of tallow to the tailow factory connected with Bond & Allerdice's establishment, 204 South Meridian street, and was given 204 South Meridian street, and was given a check on B. & A. by the foreman designating the number of pounds, 17, and the amount therefore, 88 cents. The bearer raised the figures to 1760 pounds and $88, and was paid. The trick shortly afterwards was discovered, and this forenoon James D. Anthony was arrested by Campbell and McKinney. Anthony professes to have collected the money for a third party, and claims entire innocence.

Swindler Arrested

EASTOCIANCE, April 17.—J. W. Moressy, alias Samuel Mackey, has been asrested charged with swindling, by sending circulars through the mails to various sections, particularly west.

THE INDIANS. Their Surrender to Gen. Crook,

Chevenne, April 16.—The Indians who surrendered to Gen. Crook on the 14th numbered about 1,000, mainly Sanfarios and Minneconjons under Roman Noss. They turned over to the agents upwards of 1,430 ponies and horses, also their arms, the exact number we could not ascertain, but the collection embraced many carbines taken in the Custer massacre. They are believed to have brought in many relics of that affair, and iGen. Crook has given orders to spare no pains in the recovery of such things. In the afternoon the peaceable Indians gave the newcomers a feast, and we had an opportunity of witnessing the famous Omaha dance. Five hundred Cheyennes are at Hot creek, to-night, and are expected at Camp Robinson day after to-morrow. They notified General Crook some days ago of their intention to surrender. [Associated Press Dispatch.]

ENGINEERS' STRIKE.

No Chance of Compromise.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—All possibility of a reconciliation between the Philadelphia & Reading railroad and its brother-hood engineers was removed yesterday by the published statement of President Gowen to the effect that the war upon union men in his employ admitted of no compromise.

The preparations made by J. E. Wooten, general mana er of the road, on Sunday night were as complete as possible under the circumstances, and kept the passenger trains to-day running on time. The coal trains on the main, and several coal trains on the main, and several freight trains on the upper, laterals did not run for want of engineers. In an interview with Mr. Wooten, he stated that nearly the whole schedule of the whole main line and branches would be filled to day, and new engineers and firemen to the number of about two hundred having been sent up from this city.

In the action of Risly against the I., B. & W. road, now on trial in the U. S. Circuit Court, C. W. Smith testified as to the genuineness of the signatures of Wilson, Nebecker and Gish, whom he alleged genuineness of the signatures of Wilson, Nebecker and Gish, whom he alleged signed the bond in question in his presence. Mr. Lewis, secretary and treasurer of the I., B. and W. road, was the second witness called by the plaintiff, testifying that Colonel Willson and Nebecker were directors of the I. B. & W. road in 1872, and that he was acquainted with their signatures and also with that of Gish. The bond on which these gentlemen's names are attached was I then shown witness, who gave it as his opinion that the signatures were genuine. Witness also recognized the signature of C. W. Smith, and said that in September, 1872, Nebeker was a creditor to the company to the extent of something over five thousand doflars. On cross examination Mr. Lewis testified having seen several appeal bonds at the I. B. & W. office in this city yesterdsy, and had some conversation with Mr. Fairbanks regarding the signatures. Witness was also shown several photograph signatures by Mr. Fairbanks which he Fairbanks regarding the signatures. Witness was also shown several photograph signatures by Mr. Fairbanks, which he compared with some original signatures of these bondsmen which he had in his possession. Did not lose my opinion altogether as to the genuineness of these gentlemen's signatures upon the comparison made yesterday, but merely made the comparison for my own satisfaction when informed I was to be a witness in this case. Pending further examination the court took a recess. court took a recess.

Judge Brownlee, Gen. McDonald, Daniel Mowrer and Councilmen Hurley and Turner, of Marion, Grant county, are in the city to day wrestling with the governor in the interests of James Switzer, as one of the state house commissioners. The governor received the delegation pleasantly and is represented as speaking favorably of Mr. Switzer's claim, at the same time remarking that his location was against him. It is generally understood that Mr. Nelson was against nim. It is generally understood that Mr. Neison of Fort Wayne has the inside track for the appointment from the northern part of the state, even though the representatives from Allen fought the state house project so vigorously from the very inception. R. D. Slater will undoubtedly be the secretary of that board and Gen. Tom Morris the resident member. The premature and ry of that board and den. from moras the resident member. The premature an-nouncement that the governor would make the appointments to-day has at-tracted these outside delegates here for

NEW YORK, April 17 .- Wm. M. Tweed. from his quarters in Ludlow street jail, sends the attorney-general a proj reciting that in return for the favor of liberty and rest he will yield up all his property and be a faithful witness on behalf of the people. He says he has suf-fered much and suffered long in silence, and has borne the burden, of what others should have shared. Afflicted with disease, feeble from age and confinement, and ill at ease in mind, he seeks for the rest and relief he so much and sorely needs. He adds that the basis upon which he has a right to apply for leniency and pardon is that he will make a complete surrender of his property and a full disclosure of his criminal companions. The document assumes the character of A CONFESSION.

Which goes back as far as 1867 when the ring first began to assume form. - It gives in detail the various conferences between the writer and Peter B. Sweeny Richard Connolly, Henry Genet, Oakey Hall and others, by which Tweed was elected to the state senate, Connolly comptroller in 1867 and Hall mayor, January 1st, 1869.

Tweed, according to the story, transferred to State Senator Winslow in person $200,000 to secure a majority for the charter of 1870, which gave to the ring control of the city, and the support of several influential republican members of the legis-lature. It was Tweed's understanding with Winslow at the time that the money was to be divided between Woodin, Samuel Frost, Augustus K. Ellwood, Wm. H. hel Frost, Augustus K. Ellwood, Wm. H. Brand, Norris Winslow, James Wood, Isaiah Blood, and George Morgan, all of the senate, and also with Van Pelton, Williams. Crowley, Merriam, and Beaman for their influence in the legislature. The confession gives the circumstances of the DIVISION OF THE SPOILS

Between himself, Sweeney, Hall, Connolly and Woodward. It implicates Garvey, Ingersoll, Davidson and a majority of the board of supervisors. Mayor Hall's proportion was 10 per cent. He shared throughout in all profits, was in full collusion with the various details of fraud, and was fully aware of the fraudulent nature of the contracts presented for his signature. The document purporting to be a record of the proceedings of the board of audit of May 5th, 1870, by which Mr. Hall on his trial secured an acquittal on the ground that he acted only in a ministerial character, Tweed says, was manufactured after the exposure. Hugh Hastings, of the Commercial Advertiser is mentioned as having received a check for $20,000 and checks for smaller amounts at various times. Mr. Hastings is also credited with the diplomatic achievement of having brought Jay Gould and Tweed together by which alliance Tammany and the Erie rings were operated to their mutual advantage. The confession, also, according to the World, says that all the paintings and book-cases in Recorder Hackett's house were paid for by the cly. He gives the names of five persons who he promises, if immunity is given them, will swear to the truth of all his statements. He has preserved all checks and kept memoranda of all his transactions, all of which will be placed at the disposal of the state. Of the persons named are E. D. Barber, ex-sensplaced at the disposal of the state. Of the persons named are E. D. Barber, ex-sens-tor James Pierce, Alexander Frear and William King, Tw. Tweed's works. In July, 1871, Tweed says Francis N. Bixby and ex-sherif, then State Senstor James O'Brien, came to him and offered to secure him against any further investigation of his bank accounts, his relations with the city, or indeed from any jother trouble if he would pay $150,000 towards O'Brien's claim against the city. trouble if he would pay $150,000 towards

He mentions Thurlow Weed by name, but does not connect him with any equivocal transactions. He mentions Judge Folger, of the court of appeals, and George H. Purser, of New York, as persons to whom he paid money. The confession concludes with the promise that the writer will be a witness for the city in any suit brought by the city for the recovery of moneys from any of the persons mentioned. He does not ask that the suits ggainst him be quashed, but that he be released from confinement without bail. Tweed's counsel says since his troubles released from confinement without bail.

Tweed's counsel says since his troubles most of those whom he had looked upon as his friends in his palmy days had held themselves aloof from him, while many of them had been londest in their denunciation of him. He asks nothing further of them and does not propose to recognize any further claim upon him for silence.

Townsend further says that if the attorney general accepts Tweed as a witness for the people he will find him as faithful to the prosecution as he has heretofore been to his *sscciates and confidants in ring frauds.

Volume VIII.... ....No. 113.

TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1877. JOHN H. HOLLIDAY, PROPRIETOR.

BISMARCK has retired from Berlin.

Is anybody "whacking" with the gamblers now?

Crry expenses must be reduced. The outgo must not exceed the income. Tax prospect of a settlement of the Louisiana question is improving just Is rr true that violators of the law are to be given immunity until after the city election? Way do the police do nothing with the concert saloons? They exist in deflance of law. Is Mayor Caven responsible for it? THE ordinance sustaining the suspected felon act, which was passed in the council last night, ought to be enforced vigorously. SHOULD the enforcement of the laws be suspended because an election is to be held? Are the vicious element to have immunity as the price of their votes? MEN are wanted in the city government who will enforce economy, and it don't make any difference whether they are democrats or republicans, if they do THE vote in council last night shows very plainly that the new gas company will be released from its bond, and if the monopoly is not fastened on the city it will be mere accident and not a wise prevention.

WE need a good deal of police reform and we need it badly. Policemen should not receive fees, for one thing. They are paid more for their work than good, skilled mechanics can earn, and that is enough.

WHATEVER changes are made in councils, we suppose there is no doubt that Chief of Police Dewey will be requested to step down. He has been about as big a failure in that line as the city has ever had, and it has had several.

THE democrats who are now denouncing the Belt road subsidy, are quite correct when they say that Mayor Caven is the man most responsible for it. His message last summer was the entering wedge and a pretty big one, too.

THE constitutional amendment in Vermont abolishing the religious test as a qualification for office, was adopted by thirteen votes over the necessary twothirds. The one prohibiting removal from office for political causes was defeated. Civil service reform is not strong in the Green Mountain state yet.

THAT was a singular argument made in the council last night when it was proposed to return tax collected twice, that it was all right because "many kinds of property are taxed "twice." Perhaps it would be well to find out what kinds of property bear double burden. One is heavy enough.

Ir is a sad fact, but most people hope there will be war in Europe. It is sad to think of war and bloodshed and rapine, but if these fellows will fight, if nothing else will satisfy them, why we'll have to sell them provisions and arms as long as they can pay for them. This will be humanity as well as business. With our improved arms they will get done all the sooner.

The republicans in Lafavette are all "tore up" over Lingle's appointment. An attempt was made at a convention on Saturday to pass resolutions requesting the president to revoke it, and the consequence was a row of extensive proportions. Lingle, who is not slow in his own defense, first put on the aspect of a martyr and then defied the worst. First knock down for Lingle.

Tweed has broken silence at last, and confirms all that has ever been supected. In consideration of his liberty he promises to be a witness against all who were concerned in the Tammany frauds, and as an earnest he names names, dates and facts. He charges that Oakey Hall was a full partner in the ring from the beginning, and that he received ten per cent. of the stealings. Connolly, Genet, Sweeney and other democrats were as guilty as has ever been charged, and the republicans who profited are pointed out. Among these are Hugh Hastings, of the Commercial Advertiser, a pet of Thurlow Weed's and a blatant defender of Grant's administration. He it was who made the alliance between Jay Gould and Tweed. by which the Erie ring robbed that corporation and by possession of the ring courts defied all attempts to oust themselves. The ring paid $200,000 to secure from a republican legislature the charter which gave them complete control of the city, and amorg those who shared that sum, were Senator Woodin, who is still a senator and who made himself conspicuous this winter in attacking Senator Conkling for his advocacy of the electoral tribunal. Isaiah Blood, another noted New York politician, also had a share, and others of greater or less notoriety divided the plunder. Tweed preserved all his checks and memoranda, which he turns over to the authorities, and promises to be as faithful in prosecuting men who stole with him and then turned on him, as he has hitherto been in silence. He also narrates how he was blackmailed by O'Brien and others, who got him to pay $150,000 on the representation that they could stop Governor Tilden's prosecutions. This confession will make a terrible stir in New York, and will bring consternation to many households. Hall's flight is fully explained by it. Verily the deeds done in darkness are coming to light.

THE news from the east seems to preclude the possibility of another "big "talk" among the powers, and expectation has set the day when a formal declaration of war will be made. Throughout the 'period of palaver, it is noticeable that the parties concerned, Russia and Turkey, did not for a moment relax active preparations for a struggle. Turkey's attitude from the outset has been that of heathenish obstinacy, which seemed to indicate she would rather fight than not, while under Russia's anxiety for oppressed christianity was to be seen the desire for conquest. It seems plain that whatever hopes the European powers had, these two expected and wanted nothing but war and now they are going to have it, and in the beginning at least there is a likelihood of a fair field and no favor. Whether or not any of the powers take a hand and in just what order or on what pretexts they fall on, the war must be a long and bitter one. It will be no sixty day campaign like those of Germany. The distances to be traversed are immense, the means of transportation comparatively limited, and in the country where the struggle is likely to come, all the way from the Danube to the Bosphorus, it will be with the inhabitants a struggle in which their existence is at stake. We may expect to see "insurgents" fighting in no such spiritless manner as the Serbs did in their hopeless revolt a year ago. With Turkey the war will be a religious one. Russia is also animated by the same feeling, dropping the narrow cause of Pansclavism and stepping out as the champion of the christian civilization. These are all fine words only. Russia wants Constantinople and the Turk does not want to yield an inch of his barren provinces or traditional customs, but the religious war cry welds the people. It in-spires them with a fervor in the cause, which we in the occident little realize. The oriental is essentially a religious being, worship is a great part of his daily business and he fights for it with a blind passion almost incomprehensible to us. This will be an animating principle in the beginning. How soon the battle will develop into a fight for the loaves and fishes is a mat-

The Financial Ohronicle places it in the foreground of our financial prospects, as a most encouraging feature. The south is in a good condition to undertake work. They have learned to raise many products for home consumption which they formerly bought, or rather had charged. As regards southern manufactures. chey formerly bought, or rather had charged. As regards southern manufactures, we need not be jealous here at the north. We know that millions of southern homes—both of the whites and blacks have never as yet been furnished with the comforts and the luxuries which the common people of the morth enjoy. As industry spreads and thrift accumulates wealth, those homes will rise in their degree of comfort and refinement. They will create a great demand for the things wealth, those homes will rise in their degree of comfort and refinement. They will create a great demand for the things which are produced in manufactures; the coarser and more easily made will be supplied by the native manufacturers the more highly wrought will have to be supplied by that district oldest in the traditions of manufactures and endowed by generations of artisans and schools of special instruction with the greatest facilities in mechanic art. We talk eagerly of seeking a foreign maket for our goods, but, if the south will but regenerate herself by the arts of peace, she will contribute a market far richer than the Brazils and the east. EUROPE'S COMING WAR.

Glance at the Comparative Strength of the Antagonists.

Strength of the Antagonists.

In view of the European complications, a comparison of the fighting strength of Russia and Turkey becomes of interest:

As to Russia, the army last year consisted of 1,213,250 men. The navy is catalogued under two great divisions, the Baltic fleet and the fleet of the Black sea. In the Baltic are 77 men-of-war; in the Black sea 9 men-of-war. On the Caspian sea the government has five steamers of little use in heavy warfare. The Siberian fleet comprises 11 ships of small account. There are 3 ships in the White sea and 5 in the Sea of Aral. The total available strength of the navy is about 120 men-of-war, of which only 29 are iron-clads. The population from which the army may be drawn is about 88,000,000—twice that of the United States. If providence is on the side of the heaviest battalions, the war can not be a long one or the result questionable, unless Turkey be reinforced by European allies.

As to Turkey, under the military code of the empire, a soldier upon the completion of six years' service is attached for eight years to the "sedentary army," and is li-able to be called out in case of war. The sedentaries aggregate now about 300,000. Exclusive of these the military resources are estimated as follows from the official eports of 1876:

Infantry... Reserve ........ Auxiliaries..... Irregulars.....

.. 459,360 Only one religious division of the empire, it should be remembered, is permitted to serve in the army—the Mohammedans. The non-Musselman pays an exemption tax. The citizens of Constantinopie are also exempt; and thus the en-tire army and navy are recruited from about 12,000, or less than half the populaabout 12,000, or less than half the popula-tion of the empire.

The navy is considered one of the mest efficient in Europe. The official report for 1876 describes it as follows: Iron ciads 20, other steamers 70. Nearly all of the iron clads were built in England. Dur-ing the past year three additional iron clads have been completed, and a num-ber of smaller vessels have been gotten in order for military service. The navy is order for military service. The navy is manned by 34,000 men.

The Effect of Beef Exportations.

[New York Tribune.] Washington market dealers who claim that it is for their interest to keep down the cost of meat and produce, say the increase in the price of beef and mutton is due to the shipments to England, which are becoming an important business. These shipments are of the choicest beef which the market affords. The business is in shipments are of the choicest beef which the market affords. The business is in the hands of a few shrewd men, who will have a monopoly of it till ships are expressly built for this trade and spen to engagements with all shippers. I hear the song of triumph rise,
The flag of truce I see,
As shines within fraternal eyes
The light of jubilee.
Henceforth the sound of strife shall cease,
Where er our rivers run,
Our fallow soil the plow of peaco
Turns upward to the sun!

The bloody chasm shall yawn no more—

Old fees are friends. For each has learned
His brother was as brave;
And baffled "master" has discerned
The man within the slave.

When Hampton grasps the hand of Hayes,
And Schurz the hand of Key!
Mere luminous unte other lands
Shincs every glowing star,
When Sherman beside Meshy stands.
And Douglass with Lamar!

The new gas company was represented by its president, secretary and several stockholders, and attaches of the old company were also on hand watching developments. The ball was started rolling by Izor submitting a report from the gas committee, to whom was referred the petition of the new company asking that the provisions of the charter be amended so as to allow them to give the bond of their company secured by mortgage upon their works, mains, etc., for $100,000, instead of freehold security to that ameunt. The committee merely recounted in a general way what the new company had done and proposed to do, the only fact not already published being that in addition to the $100,000 bond secured by mortgage as above indicated, the company agree to give the city a freehold bond of $10,000 to indemnify the city against any loss, damage or expense that may be caused by their excavating in the streets in laying mains, etc. The officers of the cempany report that $65,000 of the $200,000 capital stock has been paid in and that when the first ten miles of mains are laid there will be an incumbrance of $100,000 upon their property, which will be a first

In this connection a petition signed by four thousand persons was presented, asking that the prayer of the petitioners be granted, also the report of the secretary of the company setting forth the financial condition of the company which is fully stated in the committee's report. Craft expressed himself dissatisfied with the report of the committee whom he said had fallen short of their duty in not making a more thorough investigation into the affairs of this new organization. The report of the committee was then received, after which McGill said he was opposed to the proposed change in the company's security, unless better satisfied than he was at this time that the interests of the city would be spheared thereby. time that the interests of the city would be subserved thereby. Adams remarked that the committee had fallen short of the that the committee had fallen short of the mark in the report they submitted, which was merely a rehash of what the council has had knowledge of for weeks. At this juncture Reed got the floor and made a buncombe speech in favor of conceding the request of the new company, observing that the security offered in view of the fact that the city can not lose anything is ample, and that as servants of the people we should not demand a pound of flesh even though it was exacted in the original bond.

This gentleman subsided after having introduced an ordinance amending the original ordinance so as to authorize the change in the face of the bond as proposed. Diffley asked that the rules be suspended and the ordinance be put on its second reading, which Thomas moved to lay upon the table. The yes and nays were demanded on the last motion, which was lost by a vote of 10: 14. The anwas lost by a vote of 10: 14. motion to suspend the rules was defeated by the same vote, 14 to 10. The remainder of the discussion was The remainder of the discussion was mainly upon the question of fixing a time for holding a special session to consider and act upon the ordinance introduced by Reed, and, after much parlying, Wednesday evening was agreed upon as the date. Upon motion of Thaiman the ordinance was referred to the city attorney and gas committee, with instructions to report to ceuncil if any changes are made from the original ordinance except the relief original ordinance except the relief from the $100,000 bond; and, at the instance of Thomas, the com-mittee was further instructed to ascertain whether the new company has complied with its charter up to date, and the names of the directors and stockholders of the company.

Ransdell wanted the ordinance put on its passage at this time, as every councilman had his mind made up as to how he would vote, and further delay was usees. Craft expressed his surprise that Ransdell was prepared to grant the petition of the company before hearing the report of the company before nearing the report of the committee as to whether the company had complied with all the provisions of the ordinance. He said he was satisfied the new company had not complied with the first part of the contract and further the brst part of the contract, and further, that they did not intend to. I can demonstrate, said Craft, that this new organization is a wild cat scheme, and its purpose is to defrand the city. Addressing his-remarks to Ransdell, Craft continued: "Did not they (the new company) offer you the office of director of their organization?" Randall—Did I accept it?

Craft-I was asked to be a stockholder Craft—I was asked to be a stockholder in this company and was given to understand that I could have some stock.

Wright, A. L., to Craft—Have not members of the old company interviewed you since this matter was before council?

Craft—No, sir.

Stratford said he could furnish some statements of signers to that petition that they had attached their names to the paper under a misapprehension.

Adams reminded Craft that he was slightly "off" in some of the assertions he had made to-night, recalling the circum-stance that Craft had time and again stated that the new company would never lay a brick or expend a dollar in the con-struction of their works.

During the lively sparring between Wright and Thomas, the latter stated that he could name a capitalist, the peer of any man in council, who had taken $100,000 stock in the company.

From the remarks and votes last evening the following members are pron ing the following members are pronounced in favor of the new gas company: Adams, Byram, Darnell, Diffly, Izor, Kenzel, Morse, McGinty, Pouder, Ransdell, Reasener, Reed, Schmidt, Thalman, Wright A. ### A Wail from the South [Special to the Cincinnati Enquirer of to-day.

Washington, April 16.—Senator Gordon has received a letter from a southern member-elect to congress bewailing the attitude of what he terms "the Bourbon press," in reference to the support given to the administration of Hayes by southern democrats. He wants to know what to do. He says "the south has nothing to gain by following the blind lead of the northern democrative." cy." He deprecates the fact that just now many of his representatives are between two fires—that of the radical republican newspapers and the straight-out Bourbon democrats. Gordon will advise him to follow his nose.

Before the coroner's jury at St. Louis yesterday, Thomas Haley stated, in addition to his other testimony, that about 8 o'clock in the evening he saw a man, a pot washer in the hotel, whose name he does not know, go to the door of the storeroom with a burning paper in his hand. He seemed to be searching for the keyhole of the door. Supposing he had a right there, he did not interfere with him. The jury is composed of six well-known citizens, to-wit: General John McNeil, foreman; Sylvester W. Laflin, George Bain, Walter C. Carr, Charles W. Irwin, Jacob Tamm. Coroner Auler conducted the examination of the witnesses, and he and the jurymen express a determination to go to the bottom of this matter and bring out every fact possible regarding the origin of the fire, its management by the fire department, and the conduct of the proprietors of the hotel. The search for bodies in the ruins continued with unabated vigor, but none were found. Before the coroner's jury at St. Louis

The Present Aspect of Affairs. The Nicholls senate yesterday passed a preamble and resolution intended to be a part of the plan of adjustment, which, premising the wisdom of President Hayes, indorses his policy enunciated in his in-augural, and believes that it will redeem Louisiana. The resolutions declare, first, that the government represented by Nicholls accepts in good faith the 13th 14th and 15th amendments of the censtitution of the United States in letter and lath and loth amendments of the constitution of the United States in letter and spirit. Second—The enforcement of the law rigidly and impartially. Third—The promotion of kindly relations between the white and colored citizens of the state upon a basis of justice and mutual confidence. Fourth—The education of all classes of people. Fifth—The Nicholls government will discountenance any attempted persecution from any quarter, of individuals for past political conduct.

Packard publishes an open letter to the president, in which he again asks that the powers of the commission shall be so amended and enlarged as to enable them to inquire and report which of the contending governments is legally entitled to a recognition, whether a legal supreme court exists, and who compose it, and whether or not there is an armed insurrection against the lawful government.

THE CANCER PLANT Is a true purifier of the human blood. It is evidently destined to take its rank in the Pharmacopoeia as the most powerful alterative known to modern therapeutics. In every form of mercurial and constitutional blood complaint it stands without a compeer rapidly curing ulcers, pustules, carbuncles, salt-rhe am, and the eighty-eight different varieties of skin affections. It is a positive cure for cancer and scrofula. Its purifying and tonic properties exercise the most healthful influence in every known malady. It is harmless to an infant, and can never be used amiss. Under the influence of this medicine the eye grows clear and sparkling—the complexion becomes like pearl; unsightly blotches, worms in the flosh, pimples, rashes and roughness of the skin disappear, and the entire human organization grows redolent with health. ## CITY NEWS.

J. A. McKenzie leaves for New York to-with a full bench.

The 20,500 signatures of the city clerk are finished, and the Belt road bonds are now ready for issue.

A ball for the benefit of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, comes off to-morrow evening at Emerald Hall. William Kelly was tried to-day in the criminal court for stealing a bridle from Bodken & Pettit, Jury out.

George Burgess, who went boating and got whipped Sunday, is not the son of C. C. Burgess, who doesn't go boating Sunday and get whipped.

Yesterday afternoon the commissioners of the Insane asylum addition awarded the contract for galvanized iron work to Pursell & Laing, this city, for $10,400.

The civil circuit jury in the Peck will case has returned a verdict in favor of the Indianapolis orphan asylum, and the $10,000 bequest will therefore go to that instintion.

George French was arrested last night or burglary, having robbed the premises f James Fry. To-day the offense was illeted petit larceny, and French sent to the grand jury.

The fire department had two runs this forenoon, one quite early to the corner of Eighth and Rohampton streets, and the second at 11:30 to a burning chimney on North street, near Indiana avenue. In neither case was water thrown.

Two editors from an adjoining county, Walls, of the Danville Indianian (plain-tiff), and Scearce, Danville Union, (de-fendent) are warring to-day in the civil circuit court, on an old libel suit, which circuit court, on an old libel suit, which has been sputtering from court to court and county to county since September, 1875. At a time when these two editors were honing for one another's scalp, the Union published that Walls had bull-dozed the people of Princeton, Mo., in some sort of a newspaper publication, and from this the suit has grown. Judge Claypool represents the plaintiff, L. M. Campbell, defense.

Beath from Morphine.

It was announced at the time that George M. Hewit, at the Hotel Bates, died from congestion of the brain, but last evening, upon making an analysis of his stomach in a poet mortem examination, the presence of a fatal quantity of morphine was discovered. How, or when, or why Mr. Hewitt took it remains a mystery, and in the return of the coronar's jury to-day the verdict is simply death from morphine." His friends can essign no reason for suicide, or at least did not in the testimony before the coroner, and the "intent" of the deceased was therefore not passed upon. His medical attendant administered ne morphine in his treatment, and it is not known when Mr. Hewitt came into possession of the drug. Death from Morphine.

The Hoosiers Beaten by the Louis villes 4 to 2. Yesterday the Indianapolis and Louisville nines met at Louisville, a large crowd witnessing the play, and at the end of the game the Hoosiers were outplayed 4 to 2. No runs were made until the fifth inning, when each side scored one, Crover for the Louisvilles and Brent for the home nine. The winning runs were in the sixth inning, and are thus described in to-day's Courier-Journal:

day's Courier-Journal:

The fun for Louisville came in the sixth inning, and the three runs scored in it settled the game. A fumbled grounder by Quest gave Latham his base. Devlin placed a safe ground hit between short and third. Shaffer followed with a splendid line crack to center, upon which Latham, starting from second bass, reached the home plate in safety by indulging in some excellent running. Gerhardt's sacrifice hit to Quest advanced both Devlin and Shaffer a base, a wild pitch by Nolan scored Devlin, and after Craver had struck out. Snyder hit to Warner, and a low throw by that player to Houts let in Shaffer. The bases were filled by Lagerty, and Hall on called balls, but Mack put a stop to the fun by throwing Hague out at first. The Blue Legs made a rally to tie the score again, a single baser by Mack and a beautiful three base line hit between center and right sending in the only earned run of the game.

These runs rattled Nolan and he retired hit between center and right sending in the only earned run of the game.

These runs rattled Nolan and he retired from the field, McSorley pitching the remaining innings and Riley playing third. Only one hit was made off of McSorley and no runs; and the game ended with the close of the sixth inning unchanged. In the last half Golden hit a safe one and was sent to third by Flint's two baser, Flint making round. Flint was caught between bases, and while the Louisvilles were trying to run him out Golden started for home. He was caught before half way and put out. The other two batters went out in one, two order. The score shows 12 errors credited to the Hoosiers, Nolan 4, Flint 2, and Quest, McSorly, Mack and Warner one each. Earned rung, Hoosiers 1: bails called, Nolan 21; Bevlin 15; hrst base on error, Louisvilles 8, Hoosiers 2: Mack and Flint made two-base hits, and a three-baser is also credited to Flint. The Courier-Journal compliments the Hoosiers by saying their fielding is close and neat, and says:

Nolan is a hard man to hit, and if he could only he cured of the nexity of certire sick Nolan is a hard man to hit, and if he could only be cured of the notion of getting sick whenever he begins to get hit freely, he will yet develop into something formidable. Fault can be found with the Indianapolis boys only none particular, and that is for the disposition manifested by several of them to kick, upon the slightest provocation. Flint, in particular, made himself very objectionable yesterday and Mack, the captain of the team, at last had to give him orders to keep quiet.

A second game will be played to mor-A second game will be played to mor-row afternoon.

Ford, who was shot by August Shepherd three weeks ago while attempting to force his way into a ball room, died last evening from the effects of the injury, and Shepherd, who was under bonds for attempt to kill, was arrested for manslaughter. Preliminary examination has been continued until Thursday. There seems but little doubt that the defendant acted in self defense at the time of the shooting, and his small bail, $1,000, implies that the state has little confidence in the prosecution.

Amusements.

THE HARMONIC SOCIETY.

To-night the year's study and practice of the Harmonic society culminates in a presentation of Mendelssohn's beautiful oratorio of St. Paul, at High School hall. Of the oratorio it is unnecessary to speak. It contains some of the author's best work. The leading performers and director are well known as competent musicians, deserving of all the encouragement that may be extended to them. They have labored faithfully for the pure love of their work, and should be rewarded by a large audience. THE HARMONIC SOCIETY.

To morrow evening and Thursday afternoon the charity entertainments of the Amateur dramatic society occur at the Grand Opera house. The cast for the play

"Home" is as follows:
Alfred Dorrison (passing under the name "Col. John White")	of
Captain MontraffeH. L. Nelso	n.
Mr. Dorrison E. Shive Bertie ThompsonFrank P. Wad	le.
Mrs, PinchbeckMrs, Ralph Touse Lucy DorrisonMrs, A. W. Morr
Dora ThornhoughMrs. C. H. Talbo	tt.

The "Cecilians" will sing "Fairy echoes" by Millard, and the Lyrs orchestra will play several fine selections. The indications are that there will be a good house, J. A. McKenzie leaves for New York toight.

The supreme court reconvened to-day and the bill to be presented merits a good attendance, to say nothing of the object for which the entertainments are given. Reserved seats at Harry Craft's. The matinee prices will be as
